The "Spadino" estate is located in the gently sloping Maremma hills near Magliano in the Tuscan province of Grosseto. Acquired in 1999, the estate included an old farmhouse surrounded by 40 hectares of agricultural land. The first vines were planted in 2002 on 7 hectares using selected Sangiovese Toscano clones. The ground here is a mix of sand, clay, lime and tuff, and a constant gentle breeze coming off the sea makes the terrain ideal for the native Sangiovese grape. After traditional red vinification over 13 – 15 days with frequent daily pressing, the wine is left to mature for 6 months in steel vats and then a further 3 months in the bottle. Spadino has a fine, elegant and pleasantly winery nose, with delicate notes of red currant and cherry. It is dry and sapid on the palate, medium bodied, with the right amount of tannin and a harmonious, lasting finish.
